ARKANSANS SOUGHT IN KIDNAPING

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Warrants were issued Thursday for the arrest of two Arkansas ex-convicts and a woman in the kidnaping of a Reno casino credit manager.
The men were identified as Robert Gawne, 28, and William Thomas Banks, 23, who also are sought for questioning in two Michigan slayings. A woman known as "Kitty" and believed to be Mrs. Kathryn Evens, a stepsister of Gawne, is charged in a third warrant.
The FBI said Mrs. Edith Grisham, 58, was taken at gunpoint Monday at Reno and transported to four California cities and Las Vegas "for ransom and reward." Asst. U.S. Atty. Jay Sourwine said, however, the primary motive was to take Mrs. Grisham's sports car to help the men in a flight to avoid prosecution for grand larceny at Rawlins, Wyo.
Sourwine said no demand for a money ransom was made.
Mrs. Grisham was released unharmed at Las Vegas.
The two men also were being sought for questioning in the slayings of Mrs. Janet Stewart, 23, of Dearborn, Mich., and Miss Eileen Marie Alex, 19, of Allen Park, Mich.
The FBI said a 1966 car found Wednesday in a parking lot near a Santa Fe, N.M., bus station was registered to Phillip Adkins of Dearborn Heights, Mich., who the FBI said reported Mrs. Stewart and the car missing Nov. 19.
The car was abandoned in Santa Fe last week, the FBI said, and Gawne and Banks were reported seen in such a car Dec. 1 at Baggs, Wyo.

Obituaries

MRS. LILLIAN HUGHES

Mrs. Lillian Zinna Hughes, 64 of Saratoga, died Thursday in Nashville hospital. She was lifelong resident of Hempstead County and a member of the Saratoga Church of Christ.

Survivors include two sons, Louie of Saratoga and Eugene Hughes of Frederick, Okla., three daughters, Mrs. Helen Uppde of Long Beach, Calif., Mrs. Lee Green of Yuma, Ariz., and Mrs. Josephine Davidson, Okmulgee, Okla., a sister, Mrs. Henry Freeman of Foreman, Okla.

Services were held Friday at the Southside Church of Christ. Harley Sisson and Milton H. Hales, burial was in Saratoga Cemetery.

FIREMEN RISK

squad firmen from the sagging structure whose collapsed floor had pinned him for hours. Like those saved before him, he was placed on a metal framed stretcher carried by firemen and police formed a double cordon and stood at attention. The stretcher was carried through the ceremonial corridor that extended a half block to a waiting ambulance.

The stretcher bearers—carefully following first-aid traffic rules to shake an injured man—walked in broken step. The crowd cheered again.

Scores of firemen—like sailors climbing into the rigging of a sailing ship—clambered onto the apparatus and some of them lined up on the long, spider-girder of a water tower. They waved their hats. They clapped their hands. They yelled as the solemn procession moved toward the ambulance. The roars of the spectators grew louder.

The fireman on the stretcher—his face red from the fire heat—lifted his head a bit and waved.

Fresh in the mind of every man was the night of last Oct. 17 when 12 firemen died in a floor collapse in a building at Madison Square—the greatest tragedy in the 101-year history of the fire department.

As the Bacon Goes So Goes the Housewife

WASHINGTON (AP) — As bacon goes, so go housewife cost of living complaints, says a government official.

Arthur M. Ross, commissioner of labor statistics, called it "the bacon mystique" Thursday as he pondered whether a whopping 10.3 per cent drop in the November cost of bacon would bring glowing letters of sentiment from housewives to the government.

"I am continually bemused by bacon," he told newsmen. "Let the price of bacon go up and the secretary of agriculture and Mrs. Peterson (Esther Peterson, official federal watchdog for consumers) get a lot of hate mail."

But when prices of most other items go up, Ross said, there are few complaints.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG Late Menstrual Period Common in Young Women

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I am 18 years old. What causes, other than pregnancy, would make me miss a period?

A—It is not unusual for some menstrual periods in young women to be eight to 10 days late. This would be a delayed rather than a missed period. On the other hand, if five or six consecutive periods are missed, you should see your doctor as this may indicate a disease of the pituitary, adrenal, ovary or thyroid. Many of these diseases can be corrected if proper treatment is started early in its course. Other less frequent causes include obesity, anemia, diabetes and tuberculosis.

Q—I have unbearable pain with my menstruation. How common is this? Would an operation help? Are menstrual cramps similar to those of childbirth?

A—Some degree of discomfort with menstrual periods (dysmenorrhea) is very common but it is caused by some anatomic abnormality, such as a tipped uterus, in only about 2 per cent of cases. The results of operation to fasten the uterus in a normal position have been so poor that they have been abandoned by most surgeons. Another operation—cutting certain pain nerves—has usually given relief, however. For the other 98 per cent, pain-relieving drugs, exercises and a hot water bottle are usually effective.

Although many drugs are recommended, aspirin has been shown to work as well as most of the newer drugs for this purpose. In some victims, for whom pain relievers are of no avail, the newer drugs that suppress the function of the ovaries are helpful.

The best exercise is to stand with your arms raised sideways to the shoulder level and twist your body to the extreme left and right. Keeping your knees straight, bend down and touch your right foot with your left hand and then reverse the procedure. Work up gradually to 10 or more of each type of exercise three times a day.

In some girls, learning to look on menstruation as a normal physiologic process instead of a curse, and reassurance that there is nothing physically wrong with the victim, is all that is needed for relief.

Menstrual cramps, like the pains of childbirth, are due to contractions of the uterus.

Q—My daughter is almost 15 and has not started to menstruate. What could cause this?

A—Some girls do not menstruate until they are 17. In most cases this is a variation that is within the normal range. If your daughter does not start to menstruate by the time she is 17, she should be examined for glandular deficiency.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Reason Moyer Quit May Not Be Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bill D. Moyers got $30,000 a year as President Johnson's press secretary and after his brother committed suicide last September friends began telling him he ought to look out for himself.

Moyers is 32 and his brother, James H. Moyers, a widely liked but much more inconspicuous man, was also a very hardworking Johnson aide. He was 39 when he died.

Bill Moyers, with chronic ulcers and bright blue eyes, has been in a kind of Johnson after ego. He labored endless hours. He got involved in all kinds of White House business, foreign and domestic.

He could speak with great confidence about what the President had on his mind which, in this case, took some confidence.

He was always on hand and totally dedicated. And he was always so cool, so composed, that after watching him for months you'd ask yourself: "Does anything bother him? Does anything get under his skin?"

But he has a wife and three children and almost from the time he became Johnson's press secretary in July 1965 — he had been with Johnson almost continuously since 1959 — there were rumors this was just a stepping stone.

No one ever seemed to know for sure where he wanted to go but only that he was ambitious. There were rumors, unconfirmed, that he'd like to be an ambassador, that he'd like to go into politics.

In either direction Johnson — so long as he was in the White House — could have been a big help. But the months passed. Moyers stayed, so did the ulcers, so did the fixed salary of $30,000, and there was the brother dead at 39, and, as it turned out, he was seriously thinking of doing better for himself, at least financially.

Page Three

Although the salary wasn't disclosed, it can be assumed Moyers will get a lot more than $30,000.

The news of Moyers' new job was hardly off the wires before the Washington guessing game began.

Was money the real reason for his going into publishing or did he have inside information that Johnson would not seek a second term and that now was the best time to make the best kind of deal he could for himself?

They are to do good, to be rich in good deeds, liberal and generous.—1 Timothy 6:18.

gram certain items of military equipment to strengthen the defensive capability of the Jordanian armed forces," the announcement said.

"A substantial portion of this equipment will be airlifted to Jordan over the next 30 to 60 days. In addition to these deliveries, some of the F104 interceptor aircraft, previously purchased by Jordan, will be expedited," the State Department said.

Hussein is considered a moderate and pro-Western Arab leader. After the Israeli attack last month, leaders of other Arab nations accused the king of neglecting his border defenses. Some elements, especially in Syria and Egypt, urged Jordanians to get rid of their king.

Santa Visits Tiny Village in Vietnam

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN XOM HUE, South Vietnam (AP) — "Blaster 8-4, code name 'Ho-Ho-Ho,' coming in for a landing, let me see your smoke. Ho-Ho-Ho."

"Rog, Blaster 8-4, take 'er down."

In Christmas colors, green and red smoke flares indicated the landing zone across from the Buddhist temple. The bubbletop helicopters mad a turn in the listless tropical air, set down in a peanut field, and Santa Claus came to the tiny hamlet of Xom Hue, 35 miles northwest of Saigon.

There were two of them, in fact, a Vietnamese Santa Claus and his American counterpart, so the 1,000 kids in the hamlet were doubly delirious with delight.

"You number one," they kept telling helicopter pilot Richard Salazar of Pittsfield, Mass., the American Santa Claus.

Actually, he was No. 2, because the U.S. 25th Infantry Division, whose artillerymen were sponsoring the big Christmas party, was out to stress the Vietnamese aspects of the celebration.

From Xom Hue, a bitterly contested hamlet all the way back to the days of the French, it was the biggest day since the Viet Cong pulled out bag and baggage eight months ago.

The 25th Infantry Division band, trombones and tubas catching the sunlight slashing down through the mango trees, paraded down the muddy main street omni-pah-pah-ing "Jingle Bells." Half the hamlet followed happily along behind.

In the words of Ebenezer Scrooge, there never was such a Christmas as Buddhism and Christianity got together in a bizzare Christmas pudding.

There was a life-size Nativity scene in front of the pagoda, with Vietnamese schoolgirls dressed as angels in enormous silver wings fashioned from old newspapers.

"Your partner knows the score."

"Your partner knows the bonuses are given for slams and rubbers."

That 30 on score had the same effect on North as a red rag to a bull. He hardly had a raise to two but he jumped to three. After a South might not know about the rubber bonus.

South did not have to lead right to six spades. It was

Loyd Phillips Honored by Home Town

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Loyd Phillips, Arkansas' two-time All-American tackle, received the largest home town welcome ever given an athlete in Longview Thursday.

It was "Loyd Phillips Day" in Longview and clearly the day was his as more than 200 persons packed a motel ballroom to honor him.

"It makes me real proud," said the Outland Trophy winner, "that the people of Longview and East Texas think this much of me."

"Longview has done a lot for me. It's a football town, you know. They play it and they live it."

The capacity crowd gave him a standing ovation.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles told the audience that Phillips was the only defensive player that he ever coached who never broke an assignment.

"In the recruiting of Loyd we knew he was a great player," Broyles said. "I want to say this, he is the only college football player that I have ever seen just as good when he came there as when he left, and that was the greatest—and I really mean this."

"I don't believe Loyd is a bit better now, however, but a little smarter than when he came there. We recognized this and I'll tell you a little about our recruiting Loyd."

"I told Loyd to come to Arkansas and some day he would be one of the greatest players to ever play for the Razorbacks. I sincerely believe Phillips is the finest player I have ever coached."

Mayor John C. Murphy Jr. issued a proclamation declaring Thursday as Loyd Phillips Day and Phillips received a gift certificate from businessmen.

Stiffer Penalty for Players

NEW YORK (AP) — The Eastern Hockey League will levy stiffer penalties on players who assault officials, EHL President Tom Lockhart announced Wednesday.

The EHL Board of Governors, concerned over recent incidents, doubled fines for a first offense to $100 — plus three days suspension — and called for an indefinite suspension after a second offense.

Burnett Is AFL Rookie of the Year

My MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Burnett of the Buffalo Bills, the oldest of three football-playing brothers, gave them a target to shoot at today when he was named Rookie of the Year in the American Football League by The Associated Press.

The 23-year-old halfback won the crown in a tight battle, polling 15 votes to nine for Mike Garrett of the Kansas City Chiefs from the three-man committees of sports writers and sports casters in the nine league cities.

Garrett, the Heisman Trophy winner when he was at Southern California, proved a flashier performer than Burnett, ripping off 801 yards, including a 77-yard romp that was the longest from scrimmage in the AFL this season.

But Burnett undoubtedly impressed the voters with his steady performances for the Bills he gained 766 yards, scored four touchdowns and added running power to the Buffalo attack.

Running power was what Coach Joe Collier was looking for at training camp, but he admittedly did not expect it to come from Burnett so soon.

"Bobby Burnett is a good football player," Harvey Johnson, the Bills' talent scout, told Collier. "But he's probably a year away."

Johnson explained his reasoning.

"The reasons we thought he was a year away is that he played tailback in the Arkansas system and you don't get the type of blocking experience needed for our offense," Johnson pointed out.

"He was a perfect learner," Collier explained. "He picked up the blocking far faster than we had expected. And he smells that end zone."

Burnett had no idea he was going to be Buffalo's starting halfback. But he did have his sights set on showing brother Tommy, drafted by the New York Jets, and brother Billy, a freshman at Arkansas, a thing or two.

talent in the United States and Canada after the Indians walked out Monday, said that five newcomers from the Central League would dress for the game with the Reds.

He said the remainder of the team will be "augmented with some of the present players."

Shore, a 64-year-old pro in dealing with defiant players, refused to give ground in pro hockey's first full-scale player rebellion since 1925.

He rejected demands that he reinstate suspended defenseman Dale Rolfe, Bill White and Dave Amadio and veteran forward Brian Kilrea, and insisted that the team's other 19 players honor contracts.

The 19 threatened to continue he walkout until their four teammates were reinstated, but reluctantly agreed to return on the advice of special counsel.

Sun Bowl Practices

Too Secret

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Football practice sessions for Saturday's Sun Bowl game became so secretive Thursday that two Wyoming players got lost.

And Wyoming Gov. Clifford Hansen and Gov.-elect Stan Hathaway, both Republicans, were run out of the Florida State workout after jesting being accused as "football spies" by a young coach.

"It was all kinda comical," commented Dave Lantz, graduate assistant at FSU, after he had asked Hansen, Hathaway, University of Wyoming President Dr. John King and two others to leave the practice.

But it wasn't nearly as comical for Wyoming gridder Glen Lybarger, offensive tackle, and Tom Gottburg, defensive end.

They were following the Wyoming team bus in a private car driven by a professional football scout. The car lost the bus at a stop light. The two players and the scout drove for nearly an hour trying to find the high school field where the Wyoming team practiced.

They never did find it, and neither did Hansen and Hathaway.

"We went to five different fields," Hathaway said. "Dr. King didn't know where they were. Their secret practice was very well concealed."

When they showed up at the FSU workout, Lantz and another graduate assistant, Al Conover, asked them to identify themselves. They did and were told they couldn't stay — in a nice way.

Besides lost players, Wyoming has another problem. The Cowboys have new uniforms for the nationally televised game (NBC) which starts at 4 p.m., EST, and they can't make up their minds whether to wear white helmets or gold ones.

A spokesman said it depends on which shows up better in the game to be televised in color.

Poor Game But Alcindor Has 34 Pts.

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer
Lew Alcindor played his poorest game, but college basketball's sophomore phenomenon still threw in 34 points to lead top-ranked UCLA to an 84-74 victory over Colorado State University.

Down 41-34 at halftime, the CSU Rams from Fort Collins tied the score at 64-64 before Alcindor spoiled their chance Thursday night of going into the record books as the first college team to beat UCLA and their 7-foot-1½ superstar.

Alcindor and Lynn Shackelford hit for four straight field goals to break the tie with less than five minutes left and delight a crowd of 12,487 at Pauley Pavilion in Los Angeles.

"I played poorly, especially on defense," Alcindor said. "I just wasn't alert as much as I should have been on defense. I don't feel I'm progressing as fast as I would like to defensively. They gave me some trouble with their size and rebounding."

"It was probably Alcindor's poorest game so far this year, over-all," commented Johnny Wooden, the UCLA coach, after his 500th game as a college mentor.

"We didn't move the ball as well as we should have, but that may have been due to our lay-out. I think the best thing we did was to come back in the second half after they had tied us. That always matures a team."

It was the fourth in a row for the unbeaten Bruins, who hadn't played since they routed Duke Dec. 10. Tonight Notre Dame moves into Pauley Pavilion to try to upset the Bruins.

Alcindor got his 34 points on 13 field goals and eight of 13 free throws. Big 6-7 Sonny Buxton and 6-8 Bob Rule topped the Rams with 17 and 12 points, respectively.

Seventh-ranked Cincinnati, the only other team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, had to go overtime to edge Texas Christian 89-88.

Kentucky trounced Oregon State 96-66 and Kansas State humbled Penn State 83-59 in the first round of the UK Invitational while in other games New Orleans Loyola nipped Washington 88-87, Rutgers downed Pitt 87-68, Michigan defeated Ohio Univ. 86-80 and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia routed Jacksonville Univ. 81-63. Oregon beat Hawaii 73-64 in Honolulu.

Hounded Wilt Well But It Was in Vain

Nate Thurmond, Wilt Chamberlain's understudy when both played for San Francisco, hounded Philadelphia's super star tenaciously but in vain Thursday night. Thurmond may have won the personal contest, but the 76ers won the game.

In the only National Basketball Association action, the Philadelphia 76ers outlasted a dogged Warrior squad and won,

Two Football Games Slated Saturday

Wyoming and Florida State and two versions of the North vs. the South step into the college football spotlight over the Christmas weekend.

Saturday, the Sun Bowl matches Wyoming and Florida State in a nationally televised game (NBC, 4 p.m. EST) from El Paso, Tex., while the Blue plays the Gray (CBS, 2 p.m. EST) at Montgomery, Ala.

On Monday, the North plays the South (ABC, 4 p.m. EST) at the Orange Bowl in Miami.

Florida State Coach Bill Peterson frankly pins his team's hopes on the long pass, calling it "the key to our victory hopes and I don't think there's any secret to it." Sophomore quarterback Gary Pajic will do the throwing for the team which was 6-4 during the regular season.

Wyoming, 9-1 during the season, features the running of Vic Washington and the throwing of Rick Egloff. Jerry dePoyster can also kick field goals from as far out as 45 yards.

Terry Southall of Baylor will quarterback the Gray team in Montgomery, while Blues' big guns will be running backs Jim Detwiler of Michigan and Bob McKelvy of Northwestern.

In the North-South contest, 116-114, although Thurmond held Chamberlain to 14 points and out rebounded the Big Dipper.

Negro quarterback Hank Washington of West Texas State will direct the South attack along with Bo Burris of Houston.

Cunningham Signed for $200,000

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Loyd Phillips, Arkansas' two-time All-American tackle, said Thursday that teammate tackle Dick Cunningham had signed with the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League for more than $200,000.

Cunningham also received a two-year, no-cut contract, Phillips said.

Phillips, who was honored at a luncheon in his home town said end Tommy Burnett of Arkansas signed with the New York Jets, receiving a two-year no-cut contract. He said he did not know the salary Burnett got.

Asked by a newsman what professional football team he will play for, Phillips replied "Honestly, I will not know until the draft in January. All I can say is that Minnesota has talked with me about playing for them."

Now Nobody Seems to Own Churches

ROME (AP) — Now that there's going to be a costly repair bill to pay, it seems that nobody actually owns two of Rome's most picturesque churches.

The controversy swirls around the famed twin churches of Santa Maria of the Miracles and Santa Maria in Monte Santo. They are almost identical domed churches which Bernini completed in the 17th century on opposite sides of the Corso facing the huge Piazza del Popolo. Modern construction in the area diverted an underground waterflow which wore away their foundations and threatened the picturesque churches with ruin.

The problem of who will pay the bill has experts thumbing through the archives, but so far no one has been able to pin down exactly who owns the churches.

The Roman Catholic Vicariate of Rome has informed government attorneys that it holds the

BAH! HUMBUG! and all that

It may be the season to be jolly for most of the populace, but there is a hardhearted hard core that claims to find no cause for good cheer in the Christmas spirit. While Dickens' Scrooge may not have originated the breed, he did give it a name and slogan. And the line continues right down to the present day, as actor Paul Ford almost demonstrates in this series of Christmas grimaces, originally appearing in Gentlemen's Quarterly.

Plum pudding? I'd rather eat a shotput. Has anyone SEEN a partridge in a pear tree? Tiny Tim? Just another welfare case. A gift? For me? Don't get me wrong. I LOVE Christmas.

properties in trust but can find no documents establishing ownership.

The state, which made sweeping seizures of Church property last century when unification of Italy ended the papacy's temporal power, says it can find no document specifically taking over these two churches.

The financially pressed Rome Government insists they don't belong to the city.

But the landmark churches are considered artistic monuments, so it appears Rome's superintendent of monuments will have to pay the repair bill — at least until an owner can be found.

Stephen Girard, one of the chief financiers of the War of 1812, is generally regarded as the first American millionaire.

Anti-Castro Pair Cleared by a Jury

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two anti-Castro Cuban exile leaders have been cleared by a federal jury of charges that they tried to extort money from fellow exiles. The 12-man panel returned its verdict Sunday night eight hours after beginning deliberations. Dr. Orlando Bosch, 40, and his aide, Marcelino Garcia, 58, both sue.

denied writing or telephone threats to four wealthy Cuban refugees in attempts to obtain $20,000 for an anti-Castro war chest.

Bosch, is head of the Insurreccional Revolutionary Recovery Movement.

The group has arranged numerous air and ocean raids against Cuba, and its officials have been charged several times with violations of U.S. neutrality laws by arming in this country to make war on Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Bosch, a physician and once a lieutenant of Castro, went into exile over the Communism issue.

Attention Focused on 1967 Program

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — More and more the attention of the country is being focused on the strange new world of President Johnson, a world of silence and withdrawal, to see what emerges from it in 1967.

He can't go on like this if he hopes to run for the presidency again in 1968 although up to this time he hasn't said he will.

Today a group of governors confer with him at his Texas ranch. But anyone who knows him can be sure the criticism he got from Democratic governors last week has stung him bitterly.

Some of them blamed his domestic policies and political operations for the gains the Republicans made in the November elections.

That they should have made such an attack in him, probably unprecedented, shows the depth of dissatisfaction within the Democratic party with his leadership, or rather lack of it.

They were thinking, of course, of the meager campaigning he did for his party in the last election, an extraordinary neglect for a man who is so totally political as Johnson.

One shrewd political observer tried to explain that performance to this writer: Johnson is unfamiliar with Northern politics and politicians, was therefore unsure of himself, and thought it better to stay out.

This doesn't add up. His job in the campaigns wasn't the nuts and bolts task of putting political machines together. His job simply was to help candidates by appearing in their areas and speaking for them.

But this he backed away from and his reason has never been explained by him.

But his whole performance in recent months has almost had an air of mystery about it. He has wrapped himself in silence while criticism of him increases and his popularity goes down.

Just try to remember when you heard him make one full speech explaining to the American people this country's position in Vietnam: the problems, the progress, the reasons for being there. Why the reluctance to do even this?

Yet, his critics in this past year have talked so much, and at such length, now at year's end they seem worn out. Yet the war in Vietnam is one of the main sources of complaint against Johnson.

He may feel that he is misunderstood, that his ideas are being rejected or not listened to, but any failures of this kind may be more of his own doing than of any one else.

He has a habit of jumbling, of throwing a whole raft of subjects into one speech so that the net effect is a blur, instead of devoting one whole speech to one subject so that the point and effect he wishes to make are inescapable.

But when all these things are added up, what do they come to? Johnson is extremely on the defensive, extremely bothered by criticism. He was riding high in his early days when he was getting his programs through Congress and had the usual public goodwill that goes to a new

The James A. Colvin family of Pine Bluff had an early Christmas when 6-year-old German-born twins were naturalized as U.S. citizens in federal court at Little Rock. "This will be an awfully big Christmas present for us and them," Mrs. Colvin told the Pine Bluff Commercial before the naturalization. The Colvins adopted the children, John Scott and Stephanie Anne, while Colvin was stationed with the Army in Hanau, Germany, in 1962.

Colvin, who is retired from the Army, said the adoption agency in Germany told him that the blond children were the first twins adopted by Americans in Germany for several years. The Colvins have another adopted child, Herbert Edward, who is also 6. He was adopted in Virginia in 1960.

Bill Newsome of the Russellville Courier pointed out this week that it has been 11 years since a Christmas song reached the million-seller mark. That one was "Nuttin' for Christmas," by Barry Gordon.

An executive of Arkansas Power & Light Co. found himself the winner of 10 gallons of gasoline as a door prize at the recent Christmas party of the Little Rock Advertising Club. The door prize was donated by a subsidiary of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co.

The Harrison Daily Times may have been undertaking a "Let's Make Boone County More Beautiful" campaign when it ran a news story recently.

The story stated that the county shapes up as a happy hunting ground for marriage-minded gals, since there are 117 bachelors to every 100 single women.

The statistics, by the way, came from the U.S. Department of Commerce.

The minister of a certain church in Jonesboro, after hearing a glowing report on the church's progress toward a most important goal of giving, called for the ushers to come forward and present the offering.

The ushers did, but the offering plates seemed strangely empty in view of the preceding report.

"It seems," the minister said, "I have fouled things up a bit. Let us first take up the offering and then we shall present it at the altar."

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Written by Offset

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — It would come, a bright November day when the little boy's friend would cry with delight, "My, it's fruitcake weather." Together, the little fellow and a distant cousin, a woman old in years but with the heart and mind of a child, slipped under the barbed wire of Callahan's pecan grove, past the "no trespassing" sign to gather the windfalls. Then they counted their money — pennies, dimes, even an occasional dollar — for the candied pineapple, ginger, cherries, raisins, eggs and even the bootleg whiskey for 30 beautiful cakes.

So began Wednesday night's "A Christmas Memory," with Truman Capote, the author and narrator, looking back with love to this brief and warm relationship in his lonely childhood.

The dramatization of the memoir was handled as if seen through the eyes of a little boy. "My friend," as Capote called the childlike eccentric, and the boy treated their holiday like a precious secret kept from the world — "the other people in the house," they were called.

She called him "Buddy," after another little boy she had known. Together they mailed their cakes to "people who struck our fancy" — President Roosevelt, a missionary couple in Borneo they had met once, a California couple whose car had broken down in front of their farm house.

Then, as Buddy and friend were celebrating with a sip of the left-over fruitcake whiskey, "the other people" — a pair of stern, hard-eyed spinsters — walked in, were furious and made Buddy's friend cry. But not for long — she suddenly thought of pine cones and a distant grove of evergreens.

So they went there and cut a tree, so tall that a boy could not steal the star from the top, and they decorated it with paper cutouts.

On Christmas morning, after opening the usual gifts of the other people — socks, a Sunday shirt, a subscription to a religious magazine — they opened their real presents — kites they had made for each other.

Laughing, they ran into the open fields and flew their new kites in the winter Alabama sky. Capote, in a personal postscript, noted that it was their

A CHRISTMAS PRAYER

By Billy Graham

O God, who didst give Thine only begotten Son On that first Christmas, that He might bring the gift Of everlasting life to all who believe upon Him, Help us on the occasion of His birthday To think more of giving than receiving; To think, as did He, More of others, and less of ourselves; To be motivated by love instead of hatred; To be more concerned about eternal values Than the cheap, elusive trinkets of time and space; Help us to be spiritual without being pious, To be courageous without being proud; To be compassionate without being sentimental.

In this world of greed, hate and war, we ask for peace through Him who will one day be the Prince of Peace. We pray that the message of our Saviour's birth may challenge thousands of people everywhere to be born of His Holy Spirit. In Jesus' Name. Amen.

tion, but this year they're not," he says.

He explains the psychological impact of Christmas this way: "Christmas heightens all feelings — plus or minus. Like alcohol. Their general anxiety increases for the lonely, the divorced, the people who can't be with someone they're interested in.

"It's particularly depressing for those who don't have anyone or for girls involved with married men, or for mothers with sons and wives with husbands away at war."

But why is this feeling more intense this year?

Greenwald theorizes that after World War II there was a general feeling of optimism that "we had thrown off the old and it was going to be a new world. As it becomes more and more obvious that this is not happening, people get more and more depressed. Increasingly, Christmas has become a stock-taking time."

This year, he says, people are depressed about the war and the economy. Many families are widely separated.

"There's increased emphasis on things," Greenwald says. "The Christmas advertising gets more and more magnificent. So many expensive gifts are offered you are made to feel like a Scrooge if you can't buy expensive gifts for everyone. "I went shopping Saturday and people looked like lemmings rushing off to drown themselves in a sea of expensive items."

The first inkling of the current melancholia came to Greenwald when the number of people calling him for professional appointments increased sharply. Usually they drop off during the holidays, but this season his calls have tripled.

He queried the professional groups he teaches and discovered that many psychoanalysts were experiencing the same thing.

What are people calling about?

"Family crises are heightened at this time," he says. "one of the greatest complaints of our time is that we don't talk, we don't communicate. The approach of Christmas brings this out in high relief, this noncommunication, this building of barriers."

Bob Thomas at the Movies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — At the time of his death last Thursday, Walt Disney's entertainment empire was so widespread and prosperous that it seemed impossible he had known times when his studio had faced extinction.

Yet until the last decade of his life, Disney was scorned by many financial minds who considered him a poor risk, a visionary who would bring his company to the edge of insol-veny to accomplish dreams. For the first 30 years of his film enterprises, the pattern was the same: Walt got the ideas and his brother Roy got the money. But more than once the ideas outdistanced the money.

It started as early as 1923. Walt had come to Hollywood with plans of breaking into the movies. He originally wanted to be a director, but no studio wanted to hire a 22-year-old Kansas City boy with no experience. So he decided to do the thing he knew: make cartoons.

"Where can we get the money?" he asked Roy. The older brother found a source: an uncle who made a reluctant loan of $500. They were in business. Later, when Walt had trouble interesting major studios in his new character, Mickey Mouse, he thought of a way to put it across: with sound. Talkies were coming in, but nobody had put sound to cartoons and experimenting would cost money. Roy had the cash and Walt recorded the sound track in New York. Mickey Mouse became a star. The Disney resources were again pushed to the limit with the first all-cartoon feature, "Snow White." Walt had hoped to make the film for a million dollars, but the total came to $1.7 million because of his search for perfection. The treasury was depleted for an unproved project; nobody knew if audiences would sit still for a full-length feature with cartoon characters. The euphoria that followed the success of "Snow White" sent Walt on a spending spree: "Bambi" cost $1.7 million, "Fantasia" $2.2 million, "Pinocchio" $2.6 million. Then Roy called a halt. "There isn't any more money, Walt," he told his brother. "Those new features wiped out all the profits that 'Snow White' made, and our foreign market is knocked out by the war. We've got to tighten our belts." The Disney studio limped through the war, making training films and propaganda movies. Walt had a rough time gearing the studio for the peacetime market. He experimented with films that were a musical vaudeville and with movies that combined animation with live action. None seemed to click.

Doesn't Pay to Steal Yule Trees

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Stealing Christmas trees doesn't pay—especially when you try a getaway in a police cruiser with policemen as chauffeurs.

A 16-year-old Dearborn youth found this out—the hard way—Sunday night.

With pals parked in the rear of a store in a white car, police said the youth sneaked around to the front of a supermarket, grabbed a tree and scampered back.

But a white Dearborn police cruiser had pulled up in the rear and the sneak-thief's pals had vamoosed.

Panting, the 16-year-old ran up in the darkness and said, "Let's get out of here before the cops come." The cops, it turned out, were in the front seat.

The tree went back, youth-delivered. The youth was police-delivered into custody of his parents.

Then the Lord said, "It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him a helper fit for him."—Genesis 2:18.

Snow Up to 11 Inches Hits State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Old Man Winter arrived in Arkansas with a heavy foot. Snow began falling in sections of north Arkansas late Thursday, the first official day of winter, and the accumulation early today was eleven inches at Harrison and four to six inches in the surrounding area.

Driving conditions in the northern one-third of the state were termed "extremely hazardous" by State Police.

The U.S. Weather Bureau forecast the snow to continue through today in north Arkansas and rain changing to snow in the east and south portions. The snow was expected to diminish to snow flurries and end from the west late today and early tonight.

Early accumulation reports, other than Harrison, included six inches of snow at Huntsville, three inches at Walnut Ridge and two inches at Fayetteville. Snow also fell at Fayetteville and Hot Springs, Little Rock and Memphis had rain mixed with snow.

In the Harrison area there were reports of a bus, a mail truck and several cars stranded on U.S. 65. Traffic throughout the area was at a standstill.

The Jonesboro High School basketball team, which played Harrison Thursday night, was stranded in Harrison today as the snow continued to fall. The city recorded one-half inch of snow between 6 a.m. and 7 a.m. State Police said U.S. 71 from Alma north was iced over as was U.S. 67 from Bradford north. Interstate 55 in the Fayetteville-osceola area was described as slushy.

Extremely cold temperatures were forecast with lows tonight expected to range from 14 to 20 degrees in the northern portion of the state and in the 20s in the south.

Overnight lows ranged from 21 degrees at Harrison to 37 at El Dorado and Texarkana. Precipitation amounts during the 24 hours ended at 6 a.m. included Walnut Ridge .72, Blytheville .08, El Dorado 1.61, Fort Smith .64, Fayetteville 1.19, Harrison 1.34, Little Rock .60, Memphis .16, Pine Bluff .45 and Texarkana .35.

Prospects for future U.S. shipments brightened from the standpoint of grain availability when the Agriculture Department released figures Thursday indicating a record wheat crop for this country next year.

Winter wheat plantings are up 26 per cent from last year. The government has encouraged more plantings after foreign demands helped cut the U.S. wheat stockpile this year.

The grain - half wheat, half sorghum - was authorized under the Food for Peace program and will be paid for by India with its own currency.

The United States had been holding up grain allocations to India while it determined whether India appeared to be making sufficient efforts to meet its food crisis domestically.

Mills said he didn't want to say that Wortham's chances of release are good, "but we are pursuing every avenue, making every effort."

He also declined to enter speculation that the severity of Wortham's sentence would harm the chances of Congress passing a bill that the Soviet Union wants that would expand East-West trade.

"When we evaluate what we do, we take everything into consideration," Mills said.

Four visiting congressmen had warned Soviet officials that a harsh sentence would endanger the chances of such a bill and pointed out that Mills, as chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, would play a key role in its consideration.

The other defendant in the trial, Craddock M. Gilmour Jr., 24, of Salt Lake City, Utah, was fined $1,111 for having Wortham change some money for him on the black market.

The U.S. embassy said Gilmour and his father plan to leave Moscow for London today. The younger Gilmour was not allowed to see Wortham Thursday.

The overnight file has now cleared. The time is 6:59 a.m.

The opening of about six miles of 130 south of Arkadelphia would be delayed until early next year, also. The department said Highway 51 that would carry traffic between the interstate and U.S. 67 would have to be improved first.

U.S. Sending Wheat to Starving India to Offset Soviet Gift

By DICK BARNES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, spurred partly by a related Soviet action, has agreed to send hungry India 900,000 tons of wheat and sorghum for the winter.

A U.S. official called the allocation "interim" and said the administration would consult with Congress about future grain shipments.

The Soviet Union announced Thursday prior to the U.S. agreement, that it would donate 200,000 tons of wheat immediately to drought-stricken areas of India.

One official said the United States had been waiting for other countries, including the Soviet Union, to join the hunger fight. He said the Soviet announcement quickened the U.S. decision.

The grain, coupled with other supplies assured from Canada and Australia, "should prevent any starvation" into March, said the official. It assures India of one million tons of imported grain in both January and February.

India's own winter wheat crop comes to harvest in March and April.

War Flares on Eve of Yule Truce

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)

The Vietnam war erupted today in land, sea and air action on the eve of the two-day Christmas truce.

Communist shore batteries bombarded the damaged U.S. destroyer O'Brien off the North Vietnamese coast, and in the northern part of South Vietnam U.S. Marines reported 110 Communists killed after a five-hour battle.

U.S. B52 bombers made two more raids today, one of them in North Vietnam five miles above the Demilitarized Zone. U.S. fighter-bombers kept up their attacks on both North and South Vietnam.

A U.S. spokesman reported the O'Brien came under heavy shelling from North Vietnamese coastal batteries this morning and took two hits on her port side as well as shrapnel damage. The spokesman said casualties on the destroyer were light.

It was the first time in the war that a U.S. warship received direct hits from enemy shore batteries.

The spokesman said the O'Brien fired 130 rounds from her five-inch guns at the Communist batteries while A4 Skyhawk jets from the carrier Kitty Hawk also attacked the gun positions, he said.

The coastal duel, lasting about 15 minutes, took place 25 miles north-northeast of Dong Hoi. The U.S. spokesman said the O'Brien was four miles offshore in international waters of the Gulf of Tonkin.

He said the O'Brien left the scene under her own power, presumably headed for a base for repairs.

With the 48-hour Christmas truce scheduled to start at 7 a.m. Saturday Saigon time (6 p.m. EST today) U.S. Marines were reported still exchanging fire this afternoon with a Communist force estimated at about 500 men.

Units of the 26th Marine Regiment reported killing 110 of the enemy in fighting since midnight in the scrub country 16 miles northwest of Hue. These enemy losses swelled to 175 the Communists reported killed by the Marines since they launched Operation Chinook Tuesday.

Marine casualties were termed light.

The giant B52s flew in from Guam before dawn to hit at a Viet Cong base camp and supply depot only 35 miles northwest of Saigon.

Later in the morning, the eight-engine bombers raided a North Vietnamese storage area about five miles above the Demilitarized Zone and near the Laotian border.

Freedom of Choice Plan Approved

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—U. S. District Judge Oren Harris approved Thursday the Marvell School District's freedom of choice desegregation plan.

The plan will allow students in all grades to seek the school of their choice next May. The plan says that no choice will be denied for any reason except overcrowding.

If overcrowding exists, the plan says, preference will be given on the basis of proximity to the school preferred.

The parents of 65 Negro children had sued the Marvell School Board last September after the board decided not to issue choice forms as provided in its original desegregation suit.

The school board, however, submitted an interim plan Sept. 20 at the urging of Harris under which all students in grades one through six and 11 and 12 were permitted to make choices.

A total of 120 Negro children sought entrance to formerly all-white schools. All requests were granted.

The board then submitted the plan that Harris approved Thursday.

U.S. Rushing Arms to Jordan to Keep Balance of Power

By JOHN D. MCCLAIN
WASHINGTON (AP) —

The United States is rushing military equipment to Jordan in an apparent attempt to maintain a balance of power in the crisis-torn Middle East.

The State Department announced Thursday night the equipment included an undisclosed number of F104 jet fighter-bombers Jordan previously agreed to purchase, but it did not spell out the other kinds or amount of assistance the United States is providing "to strengthen the defensive capability of the Jordanian armed forces."

The announcement came shortly after the Jordanian government radio in Amman announced the resignation of the government of Premier Wasfi Tell. The department said the timing of the announcement of arms aid and the resignation of Tell's government was nothing more than a coincidence.

Tell's 22-month-old government has been under fire both in Jordan and in other Arab countries since a Nov. 13 Israeli attack on the Jordanian village of El Samu. Its opponents demanded strong retaliatory action against the Israelis.

Shortly before the U.S. announcement, Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol said in Tel Aviv his country had "new, most important sources for weapons," the sources were not identified.

Although Eshkol reiterated in principle Israel's desire to respect existing frontiers, he said his nation was reserving its right of freedom of action in the crisis.

This was an apparent reference to the recent decision of the Arab Defense Council to move non-Jordanian troops to Jordan's border with Israel.

The U.N. Security Council censured Israel for the Nov. 13 attack. Israel said it acted in reprisal for border raids by Arab terrorists.

Sources indicated the U.S. aid to Jordan includes armored personnel carriers to replace vehicles obtained after World War II from Britain.

"At the request of the Hashemite kingdom of Jordan the United States government has agreed to provide under its existing military assistance pro-

Mansfield Sees War in Thailand

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) —

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield sees in the Thailand situation the seeds of American involvement in another Vietnam-style war.

Contract for Children's Home

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The board of the Arkansas Children's Colony Thursday awarded a $1,343,437 contract to build a second unit of the colony at Arkadelphia.

The Baldwin Co. of Little Rock, one of five bidders, received the contract. Baldwin's base bid was $1,453,343, but some alternates were deducted.

In other action, the board authorized Colony Supt. Charles E. Acuff to ask the governor's and state comptroller's office to create assistant director and maintenance engineer positions for the Arkadelphia unit.

Acuff also told the board the Conway unit had received a full settlement of $310,468 from insurance companies for damage to the colony during an April, 1965 tornado.

Mansfield said the Johnson administration has dealt carefully with Cambodia "and seems to be aware of the fact that Prince Norodom Sihanouk's policy is, if at all possible, to keep Cambodia for the Cambodians and apart from the struggle."

In Laos, Mansfield said, a year has brought little change. The country is still divided, he said, despite the theoretical, three-way coalition government.

Pondering steps to keep the Vietnam war in bounds, Mansfield said it might be possible to seal off the demilitarized zone between the South and the Communist North, and carry this line across Laos to Thailand, to choke off Communist infiltration.

Mansfield acknowledged there was little hope that the holiday truces in Vietnam would be extended through mid-February, as he has proposed.

Advertising's Broader View

One of the omni-present sights on the American scene is the promotional advertisement urging the public to "Give to the College of Your Choice," to "Put Your Faith to Work Every Day," to promote safe driving, the hiring of the handicapped and other efforts of goodwill.

They are only a few of some 92 similar messages - from Aid to Higher Education through the Alphabet to the Zip Code - sponsored by the Advertising Council.

Through the media of newspapers, magazines, radio, television, transit vehicle cards, outdoor posters and direct mail.

In the fiscal year ending last June 30, the advertising and communications industries contributed no less than $236 million worth of such public service advertising. All of it was donated through the Advertising Council, a non-profit, non-partisan organization, of which The Anniston Star is a proud supporter, which for nearly a quarter of a century has been demonstrating how the private sector of the economy can work voluntarily for the public good. - Anniston (Ala.) Ike to Spend Holiday in the Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will spend Christmas in the hospital, spokesmen say.

The general hoped to be out of Walter Reed Army Hospital and back to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm by Christmas following his Dec. 12 gall bladder operation.

But instead he'll be kept for what the hospital called a "few more days" of "further adjustment of medications and observation."

The hospital quoted the Army surgeon general, Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, Thursday as saying Eisenhower's progress "has been excellent and far from a surgical standpoint he has been released."

The hospital did not specify when he would be released. Eisenhower plans to go to Palm Desert, Calif., in early January.

GEORGE M. PURVIS, Chief Information-Education Division, Little Rock, Dec. 21—New fishing license will be required after Dec. 31. They are already on sale at most license dealers over the state. The 1967 fishing license, required of every angler 16 years of age and older, is $3.50. It will be good until Jan. 1, 1968. Senior citizens, 65 years of age and older, who have lifetime fishing license, do not need additional license. Fishing is often good in Jan.

TRY ANOTHER SNIPE HUNT
LITTLE ROCK—Some sportsmen may recall a snipe hunt in which they were left holding the bag, but few have really ever taken part in the Wilson's snipe hunt. The season on this bird is now open and will run through Jan. 15, with a daily bag limit of eight.
Just as identification of waterfowl is a must for a hunter, the same is true for those who might like to try the Wilson's snipe. It is necessary so that rails and woodcock are not mistaken targets.
A Wilson's snipe has V-shaped wings in flight, stem-like legs, long bill, vertically streaked head, back of brown on white, brown rump, and orange tail. It flies in rapid zigzag fashion, and is commonly found in marshes, bogs, and along river banks.
The woodcock, which is also an in-season bird from now through Dec. 30 is a very short-legged bird, very stocky, with a short neck and long with horizontal markings on the back and neck. Brownish wings with compact, rusty colored body mark this bird. Shooting is fast, since the woodcock permits a hunter to get very near before exploding into flight.
Most woodcock are found in moist wetlands, swamps, and thickets. The daily bag limit is five.
The season on all other shorebirds is closed, and that's why identification is a must.

LEGAL DIVISION CHIEF APPOINTED
LITTLE ROCK—Russell J. Wools has been named chief of the Commission's Legal Division, and the appointment will become effective Jan. 1. Wools, who succeeds the retiring Ed E. Ashbaugh, is presently a chief

Americans Shower GIs With Gifts
NEW YORK (AP) — Americans have showered their fighting men in Vietnam with Christmas gifts ranging from nearly a quarter of a ton of soap to the tape-recorded voices of their loved ones at home.
In some communities, people have joined together to provide at least one Christmas box for every soldier from the area who is on duty abroad.
Other community groups have responded generously to GI pleas for Christmas party gifts and fixings for war orphans and other Vietnamese children.
For sheer volume, perhaps the most ambitious project was mounted by volunteers at Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah.
The volunteers received Christmas cards from university students all over the country, and more than 300,000 were airmailed to soldiers in Vietnam.
In a noteworthy single-handed effort, coed Eileen Cioe of Bryant College in Providence, R. I., collected 5,000 Christmas greeting letters. Publisher John C.A. Watkins of the Providence Journal-Bulletin paid the $250 for postage.
The Cincinnati Enquirer, in a joint project with Ohio Amateur radio operators, offered relatives free messages to U.S. servicemen anywhere in the world during the holiday season.
Radio station KALL in Salt Lake City, Utah; station WTUF in Mobile, Ala., the Salvation Army in Twin Falls, Idaho, and the Red Cross in Concord, N.H., recorded "voices from home" tapes.
Capt. Mike Murphy of the U.S. Army Advisory Team 9 in Vietnam asked residents of his home town, Kilgore, Tex., to provide presents for a Christmas party for 10,000 child dependents of men in the South Vietnamese army's 3rd Area Logistics Command. Kilgore responded with 32 crates of gifts.
Dutch hams are Holland's largest agricultural export; spring flower bulbs rank second.

Jesus Drove out the Moneychangers

THE SCENE churned with commerce. It had become the nation's biggest profit-making establishment, so much so that the Roman overlords would continue it even after they razed the Jerusalem Temple and replaced it with a shrine to the pagan god Jupiter.

On frequent pilgrimages there, Jesus had watched in dismay the growing economic desecration of the great sanctuary, the battering, the animal pens, coin exchanges, the collection of head taxes from every male citizen over 19.

Today, He would not take it any longer without challenging it. His hands worked at some leather thongs, of the kind used by cattle drovers, twisting them into a stout braided cord. If He held back, "the very stones would cry out."

He upset the entrenched order.

He dared the system. He broke traditional laws. He disturbed the dominant classes. He was a rebel. And He was not afraid.

His early instructions deploying his men carried an ominous urgency. "Take nothing for your journey, no staff, nor bag, nor money." Not even a change of garment.

In this task, there was no place for ordinary concerns. Eat and lodge wherever the door is open to you. No time can be wasted. If a town spurns you, "shake off the dust from your feet as you leave." Do not pause because of reverses.

Press on.

"But beware," He warned. Foes will encircle you and deliver you up to their councils. "But do not be anxious... he who endures to the end will be saved."

A recruit wanted to go home for a funeral, but Jesus said, "Leave the dead to bury their own dead." When another wanted to bid farewell to his relatives, Jesus told him, "No one who puts his hand to the plow and looks back is fit for the Kingdom of God... Follow Me!"

Informers of Rome's puppet, Herod Antipas, were assigned to watch Him. When friendly Pharisees warned Him to "get away from here, for Herod wants to kill you," Jesus retorted: "Tell that fox... I finish My course."

Guardians of established religious custom also trailed Him, reporting his violations. When He restored a stonemason's atrophied hand on the Sabbath, they accused Him of breaking the law. Its rigid interpretations forbade any treatment unless life was endangered. But He countered:

"The tree is known by its fruits." He seemed to tower over them. "It is lawful to do good on the Sabbath."

It also inflamed critics that He offered sovereign forgiveness to sinners. "This man is blaspheming!"

He was assailed for failing to practice the ceremonial hand-washing at meals. He could have pointed out that many other Jews — the common masses — ignored the custom, but He shunned such evasive tactics.

"Hear and understand, what goes into the mouth defiles a man. But what comes out of the mouth... from the heart... evil thoughts... adultery, false witness, slander. These are what defile a man."

Over and over, He defied the prevailing codes, the social custom. "You have heard it said... but I tell you..." And He would rip into the external proprieties, stressing motive and purpose over form.

Yet He insisted this was not the destruction of law, but its fulfilling.

People puzzled. "What is this? A new teaching? We never saw anything like this... Who can forgive sins but God alone?"

Repeated warning was brought to Him by His disciples, but He disregarded it. Relatives, of these? do you stone Me?"

"For blasphemy! Because you... make yourself God!"

"... Even though you do not believe Me," He flung back, "believe the works... that you may know and understand that the Father is in Me."

At length came that moment in the Temple court, as He looked over the gross teeming traffic, the posted sentries, the clanging utensils of wine-sellers—the constant toll on the poor that upheld the whole oppressive system.

Under the military occupation, imperial Rome and the subservient Sadducean regime extracted combined revenues amounting to almost 40 per cent of Israel's produce. The Jewish Talmud itself reviles the collaboratorist party's greed.

Each spring, from Adar 25 to Nisan 1, the money booths were set up in the open Court of the Gentiles, the only place where foreigners could worship. There, the Roman coinage was converted to Tyrian shekels and half-shekels in which the poll tax had to be paid.

Jesus, coming on the tumultuous sight that day, realizing the grinding drain on the impoverished masses, the exploitation of the devout, struck by the profaning of the Temple into an economic appendage, the noise and reek of sheep and fowls, the barring of strangers from inner prayer chambers, His conscience flamed in protest.

Inexorably, He moved across the wide court, overturning the coin conversion tables, blocking the freight carts, driving out the money dealers and animal vendors, seizing the place by storm.

"Is it not written, 'My house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations?'" He cried. "But you have made it a den of robbers." He thundered quotations from the Prophets Isaiah and Jeremiah, the very height of His indignation overwhelming the entire area.

For a time, He dominated the area. Mark's gospel states, refusing to allow commercial dealers to traverse it. But He couldn't have stayed there long.

And He knew the ultimate consequences. If He had confined Himself only to preaching of spiritual ideals, He might never have been hurt. But He was a reformer, a rebel. He acted openly against the vested interests of the day.

"I lay down my life..." He said. "No one takes it from Me." It was a deadly conflict, when right throws itself bodily against the bastions of privilege and power, and it costs. But He had the nerve for it.

Spies and leather-shirted ruffians, dispatched by the Sadducean cohorts of Rome, kept up a running harassment, as the days wore on.

Byrnes Helped Hundreds in College

By JACK BELL
COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — On the wall of the office den of a comfortable Southern colonial home in Columbia hang two striking symbols of a remarkable American's career.

One attests that on Aug. 13, 1945, President Harry S. Truman directed that James Francis Byrnes be awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for his work as director of war mobilization, a post in which President Franklin D. Roosevelt had tabbed Byrnes as his "assistant president."

Next to it is a simple bronze plaque inscribed: "To Mom and Pop Byrnes from your foundation children." It is engraved with the names of fatherless boys and girls whom Byrnes, never a rich man, has helped through college.

Now numbering 270 in all, most of the "Byrnes scholars" have received from the James F. Byrnes Foundation $500 a year for four-year college courses. But as the scholars agree, more important than the money have been the advice, admonitions on personal conduct and the love that go with it.

"You've got to give yourself," says James F. Byrnes. "You've got to take the place of the father these children have lost, as best you can. Money isn't enough."

At 87, Jimmy Byrnes is a 5-foot-7 package of wiry energy crowned with thinning white hair, twinkly greenish-gray eyes and expressively quizzical eyebrows. Maude, his wife of 60 years, is a vivacious, snow-haired pixie who thinks that everything her Jim does is just wonderful. They are a happy pair, convinced they have tapped the fountain of youth by becoming substitute "mom and pop" for teen-agers who have lost one or both of their parents.

In a long lifetime, Jimmy Byrnes has been the close associate of two presidents, Roosevelt and Truman. He has helped make the nation's laws as a member of the House and as a senator. He has interpreted these laws as a Supreme Court justice. He has administered them as war mobilization director. He has dealt with prime ministers and dictators as secretary of state. He has guided his own state as governor.

Jimmy Byrnes, whose father died two months before he was born in Charleston, S.C., May 2, 1879, made it to the top the hard way. At 13 he was a school dropout, helping to support his mother and sister with the $15 a month he earned in a law office. By 1911 he was in the House of Representatives, launching his spectacular public career.

Rather naturally, then, Jimmy Byrnes has a code he expects teen-agers he is helping to live up to.

"I believe in work," he said. "It never hurt me, and I don't think it will hurt them."

Shrine Players Visit Crippled Children

By RON BERGMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — No block or tackle on the Kezar Stadium football field Dec. 31 can match the viciousness of the blows nature has inflicted on crippled children for whom the East-West game is played.

The players and coaches saw this for themselves Thursday.

They visited the San Francisco Shrine Hospital for which the game has raised more than $5 million in 41 years.

After an apprehensive beginning that lasted only momentarily, everyone began to smile.

"I see you have an Oregon State banner up there," Jim Wilkins, a 225-pound guard from OSU, said to 3-year-old Lester.

"That's so Santa can come and see how nice it is," said Lester.

Each player was assigned a child. It didn't take long to get warmly acquainted.

Every player got a wallet with his patient's picture inside. The players gave presents, too.

All-America linebacker Jim Lynch of Notre Dame gave a balloon to smiling Bennie, 9. She took it with her right hand which had only a thumb and forefinger.

Lynch, who had to turn away for a few seconds, will have Bonnie as his incentive a week from Saturday.

Players in the San Francisco Shrine game not only give up their holidays but are unpaid.

The East got the girl's wing and the West the boy's. But each squad visited both wings where banners with school colors and names flew from every bed.

Some of the kids could get out of their beds with the aid of crutches or braces. Casts covered legs, arms or entire bodies.

The older boys gave West Head Coach John Ralston a cheer. Suzanne, 14, led a spell-out W-E-S-T T-E-A-M.

The visit was over. The older boys able to get into the hall watched through a window as the players boarded a motorized cable car replica to go downtown.

The East will practice at Santa Clara and the West at Palo Alto starting today.

The second heavy snow is what comes an hour or so after you've paid to have the first one bulldozed out of your driveway.
